

HEALTH AND SAFETY POLICY

CB Surveys is fully committed to the safety and wellbeing of its employees, representatives and any other party affected by its activities.

We have a vision that, whilst our flexibility towards our customers may involve a range of work environments, at no time shall there be any reduction in the robustness of our compliance to safe working practices and values.

To realise this vision the company will,

- Ensure that all activities are suitably assessed and that sufficient resources exist to support and protect the health, safety and welfare of the workforce.
- Ensure that all CB Surveys' employees and representatives are fully aware of their legal responsibilities and those of CB Surveys and its customers.
- Require that all activities are conducted in line with relevant legislation, codes of practice and, where not formally documented, industry recognised best practice.
- Ensure that all employees and representatives are suitably trained and competent to undertake their duties in a safe and effective manner.
- Promote the principle of continuous improvement through regular communication with employees and representatives, analysis of incident/accident data and improvement activity, where identified.
- Operate in a manner that maintains awareness of health and safety issues, both internally and externally, and updates working practices accordingly in support of a best-in-class ethos.
- Acknowledge the Managing Director (Chris Brodie) as taking overall responsibility for matters relating to health and safety and that he shall ensure all employees and representatives of CB Surveys will abide by this policy.
